

Kyra Lise // Port of Seattle

Kyra Lise works with cities and their leadership to develop and execute on market based real estate development strategies that support sustainable future growth and widely shared opportunity in diverse communities. While serving as Vice-Chair of the Pittsburgh Planning Commission, she began working for the Urban Redevelopment Authority of Pittsburgh as the Real Estate Department Director. During her 10 year tenure there she was charged with overseeing large scale real estate transactions and managing a large and diverse portfolio of projects and properties.

In 2017, she relocated to the West Coast to work for Portland, Oregon's redevelopment authority Prosper Portland where she was Director of Development and Investment. In late 2019 she relocated to Seattle where she is the current Director of Real Estate Development for the Port of Seattle. She is currently at work on a book about the future development of cities in the era of climate change and advanced technology.
